

LINE-CARD

For more than 45 years, WEH has been the leading manufacturer in fluid systems connection technology with a central focus on developing quick connectors and special solutions. Founded in 1973 as a one-man business, the company soon started to expand. With an intuitive understanding of market needs, WEH developed a whole new product line of quick connectors enabling pressure and function-tight connections in just seconds – without tedious hand tightening.

In 1986 the WEH product range was extended to include alternative refueling components for natural gas (CNG) and hydrogen (CGH2) when WEH GmbH Gas Technology was founded. Today, WEH is a world market leader for alternative refueling components and its CNG fueling system NGV1 is the worldwide standard.
